

National healthcare company specialising in home healthcare services as an alternative to long term hospitalisation, the prevention of hospitalisation as well as holistic healthcare management within retirement communities. The latter occurs according to different models based on the specific community's needs.

We strive to assure a continuum of care by supplying healthcare services and support to those in need of care. We render services to all ages: newborns up to centenarians.

A multidisciplinary team approach is needed to promote wellness and sound health care in any environment.
